

KRESGE ALPHABET

A stands for Alma, whom we welcome to our store,
B stands for Bushfield, who sells Neckwear galore,
C stands for Corinne so jolly and gay,
D stands for Davis, with her sweet, winning way,
E stands for Ebright, whose sales are high,
F stands for Fellie, to beat him "just try",
G stands for Garner who works with a dash,
H stands for Holycross, who handles much cash,
I stands for the person who wrote this poor stuff,
J stands for Janton, who sells ribbon enough,
K stands for Kingman, whose work is her pride,
L stands for Long, perhaps our next bride,
M stands for Murphy, both Margaret and Nan,
N stands for Nicol who does the best she can,
O stands for order, which here is always found,
P stands for Pfeifer, to sell Music she is bound,
Q stands for that "question" 'bout time for the bell,
R stands for Rader, who many rings does sell,
S stands for Schleiffarth, well known to us all,
T stands for Toole, who left us last fall,
U stands for our Manager, of whom we'll never tire,
V stands for Vacation, which we all desire,
W stands for Wright, who works on Saturday,
X stands for Xmas which is not far away,
Y stands for "You folks" not mentioned here,
Z stands for Zero weather which is very near.
Julia Hennacy.

* * * * *

Stella - I knew a girl that accepts rings from men she never saw.
Celia - I can't believe it.
Stella - She has to, she's a telephone girl.

* * * * *

Mr. Finnesey - Why is it that married men make better base-ball players than single men?
Mr. Collins - Because they are always making home runs, make short stops, and are seldom caught out.

* * * * *